

American Red Cross New York Blood Center and Medical Research Institute

The New York Blood Center is one of the nation's largest independent blood distribution and services organization, serving close to 200 hospitals and 20 million people in the tri-state area. The institute houses 12 laboratories is a leading center for basic and applied research in hematology and transfusion medicine dedicated to the study of blood and blood transfusion, and the prevention, treatment and cure of blood borne and other diseases.

For this this 5-story appr. 60,000 sq. ft. state of the art blood center and research laboratory, AGCE was responsible for the survey and design of mechanical, electrical, plumbing and fire protection systems.

The objective of services provided was to inspect all of the mechanical and electrical systems of the site and to report on their physical condition and where practical, estimated life. AGCE design services included, emergency power system upgrade, electrical upgrade, HVAC systems upgrade, plumbing and fire protection systems for offices, laboratories, medical gas, storage facilities, toilet facilities, conference rooms and lobby.

Location:

New York, NY

Owner:

American Red Cross

Services Provided:

Mechanical

Plumbing

Electrical

Fire Protection

A.G. CONSULTING ENGINEERING, PC

A.G. Consulting Engineering, PC
131W 33rd Street, 12B
New York, NY 10001
Phone: 212-268-0950
agceng@agceng.com